Does Your State Offer A Tuition Recovery Fund?

Some states provide funds that generally reimburse charges not covered by other sources. For example, a closed school loan discharge would cover the amount of your federal student loans, while tuition recovery fund payments could cover expenses, such as private loans and cash payments that were directed toward tuition payments at the closed school. Contact the Indiana Commission on Higher Education for more information and applicable eligibility criteria.

Do You Qualify For A Closed School Loan Discharge?

Harrison officials have verified that Sept. 16, 2018, will serve as the institution's last full day of educational instruction and will be the date used to determine your potential eligibility for a closed school loan discharge.

There are certain criteria for a closed school loan discharge, and there are certain steps you need to take to apply for a student loan discharge.

Student loan borrowers (and parents who borrowed PLUS loans on behalf of students) may be eligible for a 100-percent discharge of your federal student loans borrowed to attend Harrison under either of these circumstances:

- Harrison closed while you were enrolled, and you did not complete your program because of the closure. If you were on an approved leave of absence from Harrison for purposes of the Title IV, HEA programs, you are considered to have been enrolled at the school, or
- You withdrew from all classes on or after May 20, 2018, which is 120 days or less before Harrison ceased instruction.

You are not eligible for discharge of your loans if your school closed and any of the following is true:

- You withdrew from all classes before May 20, 2018, which is more than 120 days before Harrison ceased instruction.
- You completed all of your coursework for your program prior to Harrison closing, even though you have not received a diploma or certificate.
- You are completing a comparable educational program at another school
  - by transferring academic hours earned at Harrison to another school, or
  - by any other comparable means.

If your new school doesn't count your Harrison credits or if you decide not to use your credits towards completion of a comparable program at another school, you may instead apply for a closed school loan discharge of the federal loans you took for your Harrison credits.

The Loan Discharge Process

To apply for a closed school loan discharge, you can either:

- Complete and return the Closed School Loan Discharge Application sent to you by your servicer or complete the Closed School Loan Discharge Application at StudentAid.gov/sa/sites/default/files/closed-school-loan-discharge-form.pdf and return it to your loan servicer, or
- Contact your loan servicer for more information before you complete the application.

You must send your Closed School Loan Discharge Application to your federal student loan servicer. To find out who your loan servicer is, log in to My Federal Student Aid at StudentAid.gov/login or call 1-800-4-FED-AID (1-800-433-3243; TTY for the hearing impaired 1-800-730-8913). A list of federal loan servicer contact information is on page four of this fact sheet.

- Be sure to continue to make payments on your loan while your discharge application is being processed.
  - If you do not meet the criteria for a loan discharge, you will be informed by your loan servicer and will need to continue making payments on your loans based on the terms of your promissory note.

Does Your Federal Pell Grant Eligibility Reset?

The amount of Federal Pell Grant funds you may receive over your lifetime is limited by federal law to be the equivalent of six years of Pell Grant funding. Since the maximum amount of Pell Grant funding you can receive each year is equal to 100 percent, the six-year equivalent is 600 percent. For more information, visit StudentAid.gov/pell-leu.

ED has implemented a policy change to restore periods of Pell Grant eligibility to students who were unable to complete their course of study due to the closure of an institution. If you are eligible for the restoration of Pell Grant eligibility, your restoration will be done automatically; there is nothing for you to do. If your Pell Grant eligibility has been restored for the current award year, and/or you have regained eligibility bringing you under the 600-percent limitation, you will be notified by email.

Can You Transfer Your Credits To Another School?

Instead of applying for a closed school loan discharge, you may want to keep the credits you've earned from Harrison and transfer those credits to another school with a comparable program. If you do transfer into a comparable program offered by another school, that school will evaluate your Harrison transcript, course work, and hours completed in the subjects covered in your course of study, and will decide how much credit to give you for the work you've already completed, as well as identify the coursework you need to complete your program of study. It is up to the new school to decide how much credit to give you.

ED is working with Harrison officials and representatives from the state licensing and postsecondary education oversight body to process student records as soon as possible, so that transfer schools can start assessing students for transfer and remaining student aid eligibility.

Harrison will be held responsible for the return of any federal student aid funds which were due to students and which Harrison received, but not earned, prior to its closure. ED will work with Harrison officials to make sure unearned student Federal Pell Grant and loan funds are restored for future eligibility.

Remember, if you transfer the credits you've earned at Harrison toward a comparable program at another school and you complete or are in the process of completing that program, you will not be eligible to receive a closed school loan discharge for those credits.
